

"I'm Into Something Good" Concert

Ready to start. Dramatic lighting caught skilfully by our camera lady.

Start-up.

← Music Director, Ian, Boath opening proceedings with his usual eloquence.

"You're in for something good", he said.

Our own soloist, Maxine →, singing her part from The Beatles "Let it Be", in a great Gospel style.

24 different ways of mouthing “ooo”!

← Our very professional guest artist, Mark Oates, hammin' it up, to everyone's delight.

Altoe Barb, → Maxine and Roelyn, part of our contingent of altoe, who provide the warm mid tones to our sound.

"Who, me?" quoths Mark?. Yes, you! And a darned good job you did too—much enjoyed by all.
Mark's regular accompanist, Martin Cheney, at left.

Vivacious choral society President, Nicole, thanking our hard-working Task—Master, Ian Boath. Thanks to Ian for inspiration and musical guidance, and Nicole for her leadership.

The Grand Finale, "West Side Story" with Mark. We choristers certainly thought it was grand!
Many thanks to all, including our appreciative audience, and our helpers. A great start to our choral year. jre (ITC)
